[1] For the unduplicated faculty profile, professors who teach in more than one academic school (eg., Administration and General Education), are automatically placed in one school (typically their school of specialty). Similarly, if the professor has more than one status (full-time in one campus and part-time in another), one is automatically chosen (typically the full-time status). The unduplicated faculty profile is utilized mainly to keep track of overall faculty during the semester. The Campus Faculty Profile, on the other hand, contains duplicated data as professors may teach in different campuses during the semester (eg., Hato Rey for one bimester and Caguas for a separate bimester).
